

MASKED MURDERER IS SOUGHT

Wounded In Action

M/Sgt. WOODROW M. TAEDEL

M/Sgt. Woodrow M. Taegel, former Cameron boy and late of Wichita, Falls, has been wounded in action in the fighting in North Africa, according to a telegram received by his grand father, J. P. Overton of Wichita Falls, from the War Department.

Sgt. Taegel is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Taegel who live on Rural Route 1, out of Cameron. Sgt. Taegel graduated from Yoe High School in June 1936 and in October of that year went to Wichita Falls to live with his grand parents and entered business college there.

In 1937 he enlisted in the National Guard and was called into service. He was at Camp Bowie and other centers before going overseas for combat duty. His unit landed in North Africa last April.

A Wichita Falls newspaper reporting the news said that Sgt. Taegel was seriously wounded. He is 27 years old.

A message received since the above was put into type states that the grand father in Wichita Falls, has been told that Sgt. Taegel is improving. The War Department gave the additional report.

Cpl. Adolph Fuessel Is Missing in Action

The notice was received on October 15, and the message to his mother said that Cpl. Fuessel has been missing in action since September 15.

When last heard from Cpl. Fuessel was in North Africa with the Paratroopers.

Cpl. Fuessel is one of four sons of the family in service. The others are Pfc. Alex Fuessel somewhere in Australia; and Cpl. Freeman Fuessel somewhere overseas. Another son in Louisiana with the Military Police.

WAR ON RATS WILL BEGIN HERE SOON

Work is being started immediately on a Rodent Control program in Cameron in an effort to thin out the rats and hold down the spread of typhus fever.

Poisoned bait will be put out in the business section of the town during the next few days, and those in the residential sections may secure advice in killing out rats by calling at the office of the Milam-Robertson County Health Unit which is handling the work of this campaign.

It is hoped that full co-operation will be had from the business men of the town in this drive. Both the typhus fever rate and the economic loss in this section are much too high to continue without making some effort to remedy.

The city is paying the expense of the campaign.

Fire Damage Light At Palace of Sweets

Fire which started from a small motor in a freezing unit, damaged the interior of the building and contents of the Palace of Sweets.

Firemen were being praised here for averting serious damage. The boys crawled on their stomachs to the motor and soon had the fire out. This was done to avert water damage.

The building was filled with heavy smoke and it was with some difficulty the motor was located.

Valter White, former Sheriff, and member of the department, home on leave from the army, was the first fireman to report at the building.

Fought Under Black Flag of Quantrill; Is Visiting in Cameron

He looks like William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill) and knows more about the Kansas border wars than any living man because he was there and had a hand in the bloody reprisals that took the lives of more men than any other similar conflict in history.

Frank Dalton, 96, is spending a few days in Cameron. He travels much, lectures, writes stories of the old days and spins yarns that smack of danger along the Kaw where the Youngers and James Boys hung up a record never equaled during the days of Quantrill.

Mr. Dalton, uncle of the notorious Dalton boys, outlaws of the early 90's, was born in Goliad, Texas, March 8, 1848 and says he is just two days older than Texas as a state in the Union.

Having read most everything published on the Kansas and Missouri border wars that involved the outlaws and the men who fought for the South under Quantrill and the great Joe Shelby who was patrolling the border when the civil war came on, the Publisher invited Mr. Dalton for a chat.

Mr. Dalton though in greatly advanced age retains as most of the old timers do, a vivid recollection of events and people of long ago. I asked him where the body of Frank James was buried and his instant reply was: "He was never buried. You see, the body was cremated in St. Louis, Mo." Frank James, after the turbulent days were over and following the death of his notorious brother, Jesse James, lived in Dallas.

The Dalton gang was in major numbers made up of the Dalton boys, nephews of Frank Dalton. Four members of the outlaw band were killed at Coffeyville, Kansas, while attempting a bank robbery on October 5, 1892. Coffeyville at that time was a town of some 2000 people. The story that citizens secreted themselves in trees is rejected by Mr. Dalton who says that the fire which wiped out the gang came from a hardware store up the street where citizens concentrated a large number of rifles in a surprise volley. Bob and Gratton Dalton, commonly called Grant, were killed. As their bodies toppled to the street two other members of the gang also fell. They were Billy Powers and Dick Broadwell.

Emmett Dalton, generally regarded as leader of the gang, came out of the bank with $22,000, mounted his horse and rode rapidly out of the street. He looked back and saw no one was following so he rode back into the street and was shot from his horse and critically wounded. Captured, Emmett Dalton was sent to prison at Independence in Montgomery County, Kansas. He remained in prison, said Mr. Dalton, for about 10 years and was paroled, giving a peaceful life thereafter and was a good citizen.

Lawrence Dalton, the father of Frank Dalton was born at Dalton, Ga. He was living in Texas with his family at Goliad when Frank was born. He fought in the army of General Zachary Taylor. He was a lawyer at Dalton, Ga., and enlisted under Taylor, obtaining a Commission in the Cavalry.

As a small child Frank Dalton moved to Missouri. The family settled at Monegaw Springs, west of Osceola. He returned to Texas in 1864 and lived for a while in Van Zandt county. He was never a Confederate soldier.

A book by Buehl, pioneer newspaper publisher, makes the claim that Jesse James was shot by George Sheppard as the gang rode out one day on a mission of robbery. Bad blood between the men led Sheppard to plot the death of James. The Buehl story says Sheppard dropped to the rear of James by reining in his horse and shot Jesse in the back.

Mr. Dalton says this story is not true, that James was shot by Bob Ford, as has been commonly believed. Ford was working for Jesse at a stable where the outlaw had some race horses. Both were lying on the bed in the home of Jesse James at Carney, Mo. Jesse got up and stood in a chair to straighten a picture Mrs. James had hung on the wall the day before. Ford seized one of James' pistols which had been laid on the bed and shot Jesse in the back of the head.

Bob Ford lived only a short time after he had slain Jesse James.

Dalton, in a brief reference to his life, said he identified the body of Jesse James, along with others.

Dalton at the age of 13 was hung by the neck for trying to defend his sisters against Yankee soldiers. Left for dead he was saved when his mother ran out to the barn and slashed the rope with a butcher knife. He was just past 13, but large for his age. He ran away and joined Quantrill at Blackwater, Mo. Jesse James enrolled under the black flag of Quantrill on the same day. Previously Jesse had been rejected on account of his age. Jesse was beaten by Yankee soldiers in a corn field because he would not divulge information. Frank James was slain by Union soldiers.

Quantrill, a controversial figure, was the most successful leader of guerilla forces in history. Dalton claims he has a photo of Quantrill. It may be the only one in existence. The guerilla leader was born in Kentucky. Buehl in his book says his body is buried in an obscure town in a Catholic cemetery in Kentucky.

Dalton tells a different story. Quantrill, he says was a Mason. This seems fairly well substantiated by the Buehl book and documents incident to his life. Dalton says Quantrill escaped with some of his men, swam the Mississippi under fire and came to Texas. He taught school under an assumed name and died and was buried in Texas. He said he would not disclose the location because Quantrill still has relatives in Texas.

The body of Jesse James was first buried in the yard of his home at Carney, Mo., but later removed to St. Jo, Mo.

Dalton says that Frank and Jesse James were not in the Northfield, Minnesota bank robbery when the Younger boys were all shot and captured. Later, he said that Frank James, had produced evidence to prove that he and his brother Jesse were not in on the robbery.

Cole Younger, a lieutenant of Quantrill, was a man of fine background and education, as a matter of historic fact. He was attending a military school in Kentucky when the civil war came on. Mistreatment of his family led to violent decisions. He joined Quantrill. Cole, Jim and Bob Younger were all captured near the scene of the bank robbery. Bob was badly wounded and Cole, the leader, would not abandon his brother. All were shot and captured.

The Younger brothers went to prison for life. Bob died in prison.

Mr. Dalton says Cole and Jim were paroled in 1901. In the spring of 1902 Jim shot and killed himself accidentally when he dropped a loaded pistol. At first it was reported as a suicide. The accident occurred in St. Paul, Minn.

Cole Younger died March 21, 1917 at Lee's Summit in Missouri, says Dalton and his body is buried there.

Dalton lectures, writes stories for the Dude Rancher. He has fought in three wars and says he will live to see this one ended in American victory. He admits he was an outlaw, had the chance to surrender to be tried for many crimes, falsely charged against the men, but elected to remain free and hit out for Texas.

He will lecture on the public square Saturday.

Cameron Doctor Shocked at News Of Hunt Deaths

By HARRY PROVENCE

Cameron, Oct. 26.—Apparently shocked at the news of the murder of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt at Littlefield, Dr. William Rowland Newton, Jr., who was convicted last summer of attempting to kill Dr. Hunt, said he was in Cameron at the time the slaying occurred early today.

"I am terribly shocked. I am terribly sorry it happened," Dr. Newton told this reporter as he sat at his old-fashioned roll top desk in his cluttered suite of offices over the First National bank here. He had just read of the crime.

"I've been working here day and night. First I knew of this thing was about an hour ago. One of my patients called me and said someone had told him Dr. and Mrs. Hunt had been killed."

Dr. Hunt and Dr. Newton were classmates at the University of Texas Medical school and served internship together at Houston.

A newspaper story was the first coherent account of the murder he had received, Dr. Newton said, and he read it avidly, exclaiming "My God!" as he came to the detailed description of the slaying.

Dr. Newton's conviction and sentence of seven years in connection with the shooting of Dr. Hunt 18 months ago are in process of being appealed to the court of criminal appeals in Austin.

"My knowledge of Dr. Hunt and my testimony are all on the records of the trial," Dr. Newton said. "I have never had any ill feeling toward the man. I feel that anything I might say now could possibly prejudice my case."

He refused to discuss the matter further.

Mrs. Newton, jointly charged with her husband in the original Hunt shooting, has been ill, and her trial at Littlefield had been postponed on that account. Dr. Newton said today his wife's health had improved recently but that she was not by any means entirely recovered from her illness.

During recent years he had built a large business, covering several counties as distributor for a brewing corporation.

TEXAS PHYSICIAN AND WIFE SLAIN IN BED

Lubbock, Oct.—The unknown assailant who early today killed Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt of Littlefield and left their bound, blood-soaked bodies to be found by a six-year-old daughter, used two methods to take the lives of his victims.

Examination of the bodies, made early this afternoon, disclosed that Dr. Hunt, approaching 37, had been killed by a bullet from a small caliber pistol, and that Mrs. Hunt, about 26, had succumbed to a major concussion of the brain, brought about by a blow on her forehead, just above the right eye.

Thus the second attempt in less than 18 months on the life of Dr. Hunt succeeded, and also claimed the life of his wife.

Shot Once Before
Dr. Hunt was shot twice on May 21, 1942, and Dr. William R. Newton, prominent Cameron, physician, and his wife were charged with assault with intent to murder.

Dr. Newton was given a seven year penitentiary sentence and appealed. He now is free on bond. Mrs. Newton is awaiting trial.

Hunt, a Littlefield physician and surgeon for the past seven years, was a member of a prominent and pioneer Lubbock family. Mrs. Hunt, who met her husband in 1935 when she was a student nurse and he was intern at Houston's Jefferson Davis hospital, was the former May Franks, of Houston.

Lamb county Sheriff Sam Huston, in charge of the case, said this afternoon "we are up against a stone wall." He and Dist. Attorney Harold LaFont of Plainview agreed with a score or more other officers from nearby points that "apparently the twin-killing is the work of a professional."

Discovered by Child

The slayings were discovered first by the elder of the couple's two daughters, Jo Ann, when the little girl found "something wrong" and, in her night-clothes, went to a nearby home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Grissom and announced, simply, "My mother and daddy are killed. Bad man killed them." With her also in night clothes (continued on page eight)

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO BUSINESS MAN HERE

Grady Little, World War No. 1 veteran and widely known business man here, died from a heart attack at 3:10 this afternoon at his place of business.

Mr. Little was on a routine business call at the outskirts of the city when he suffered the attack. He was driven to his ice station and business office by another. He died shortly after his car reached his station. Dr. Clifford G. Swift, family physician, was called to the station but Mr. Little could not respond to treatment.

News of his death was received by the people of the city with profound shock. He had been active all day. It was understood by The Herald that he had at one time been treated for a heart ailment.

Mr. Little was born in Milam county. He was about 50 years of age. At the time of his death he was conducting a large ice business here and was agent and distributor in several counties for the San Antonio Brewing Association.

Mr. Little, a Legionaire, and veteran of World War No. 1 was former Commander of the American Legion in Cameron. He was prominent in business circles and two years ago was local chairman for the war loan campaign.

His business was large, embracing a number of counties. During recent months, due to the acute labor shortage, Mr. Little had exerted himself and no doubt taxed his strength. During World War No. 1 he was in the Navy. As commander of the local post he sponsored many gatherings of prominent men from over the state, entertaining at his home in Cameron.

Surviving are his widow, the former Miss Oma Weems and one daughter, Jean, a Junior in high school here.

BERLIN ROCKED IN NEW RAID ON REICH

Berlin was rocked in a new raid on Hitler's Germany Wednesday in a renewal of the air offensive against the Reich.

British heavy and mosquito bombers were over the German capital last night in a heavy raid. The British said they lost 17 bombers.

Seven Fortress bombers of the American 8th Air Forces in England were lost in raids over France and Holland.

The war from the west was bad on the German morale but what was happening in the east was of more concern. The Red army was making rapid advances across the Dnieper and in the big bend of the river were about to encircle thousands of Nazi troops.

Meanwhile the armies in Italy were going forward with heavy fighting American and British airmen were hitting German targets in Yugoslavia and in Northern Italy.

NATION'S COAL BIN MAY SOON BE EMPTY

The nation's coal supplies were in jeopardy Saturday as industrial politics obscured the second front fighting in Washington.

With many thousands of miners out on strike because they have no contract other thousands were due to follow as the Labor Relations Board entertained John L. Lewis.

Harold Ickes, secretary of the Interior, has turned the mines back to their owners. The miners have said all along they will not work without a contract. As it looked Saturday the government may soon be held in breach of faith unless the contract is forthcoming.

The coal strike has been a sort of chess board on which public sentiment has been alternately appeased and flaunted. There has, however been no action of any kind calculated to disclose how fare the people and those who fight abroad.

Elizabeth Gunn, Frank E. Susick, Agnes Weems, Pfc. Peter Kalanic, Harriett Weems and Cpl. S. M. Ty tantic visited in Rosebud Sunday.

L. C. Wood, former football coach in Cameron visited in Cameron Friday and Saturday.

DUCKS TAKE YOEMEN BY SCORE OF 19 TO 0

The Taylor Ducks in the wake of a fine halfback named Struska kept their 1943 record clear of defeat by flattening the Yoemen here Friday night 19 to 0.

It was a case of too much power, plus reserves and speed. Struska scored three touchdowns, one each in the first, second and third quarters. In the fading moments of the game the Ducks waddled to the Yoemen 25 on a long pass down field.

The game got under way at 8. The stands were filled. A side attraction was a dozen or so fist fights and near fist fights back of the south stands between Cameron and Taylor boys.

The Ducks kicked off to the Yoemen as Capt. Torno elected to defend the west goal. A slight wind was blowing in from the east. On the kickoff Torno got away and ran the ball to the Ducks 40 yard line, fumbled and lost. The Ducks then marched to the Yoemen 3 but were turned back by a bit of defensive line play sparked by Billy Joe Michalka at center, Billy Black and others. Torno kicked out from 10 yards behind his goal line but the Ducks were back in a flash to score. They failed goal. In the third quarter Struska scored again over the west goal and in the fading moments of the period got another one, kicking goal.

The Yoemen never threatened. They got 3 first downs while the Ducks were getting 16. Gone was the running game of the Yoemen. They tried passes—13 of them, completing 3 for only 29 yards. The Ducks connected with 3 out of six passes for 25 yards.

The Yoemen got the ball four times, after each touchdown and once during the blackout. That just about sums up the defeat, but on the whole the score was not as high as had been conceded. It was one of those nights when nothing a team does works and so a fine band of red suited Yoemen went down.

With their hardest game yet to be played the Yoemen will rise up from the sod of their field to take on the Kangaroos at Killeen Friday night. Gatesville defeated Killeen. The Taylor Ducks play Gatesville Friday night. The Yoemen go to Killeen.

Lad Who Lost $11 Helped; Needs More If Money Made Up

The lad who lost his money—funds he had earned by hard work which he cannot afford to lose—has been helped by a few good men in Cameron.

Saturday within 10 minutes after The Midget was delivered, J. M. Boehner of the J. C. Penny Company left his busy post and walked to the Herald plant with $1. "You are to be congratulated on that story and here's a dollar for G. W." Mr. Boehner highlights every appeal and has made it possible for the lad to smile again.

Within 30 minutes others came in. Second were two fine Legion men, war vets who said they were both boys once. They are Jim McGoldrick, and H. B. McClellan, both giving $1. With the $1 given by The Midget G. W. had four and before the office closed $2.50 more came in.

J. R. (Bob) Peter, busy business man, telephoned and pledged a dollar. "That same thing happened to me once," he said. "I know just how G. W. feels. I want to give a dollar and more if necessary and if he needs it to get that bicycle, let me know." Fine bit of human sympathy and understanding.

Mrs. Vera Kennon brought in 50c. She has been most considerate and her benefactions have been many.

W. E. Braden came in just at closing time. "Here's 50 c for G. W. I was a boy once, you know," he said with a twinkle in his eyes, "and I know what it means to lose money."

Early Monday C. F. Spiller who has just celebrated his 85th birthday, gave 50c. It is a long time now since Mr. Spiller was a boy but he has never lost the spirit that makes men live long with mellow lives.

G. W. now has $6.50 of the $11 he lost. No further appeal will be made. Over the week end some who were touched by the appeal may have forgotten but this will remaind you again that to have a share in re-be a big entry in the ledger. A kindling G. W.'s faith and spirit will philosopher has said: "In the last hour before the mists of the dawn are cleared away, all we will have is what we have given away."

Lone Star Gas Service costs so little. But this is no reason why in these wartime days some thought shouldn't be given to its wise use. By planning ahead there are many little things you can do to eliminate waste and thereby get full benefit from the economy of whole house heating. The eight suggestions below are insignificant in themselves, but all together they add up to quite a saving over a period of months. But more important they mean the wise use of a fuel which is so important to Southwestern war industries.

HOW TO USE GAS WISELY FOR HOUSE HEATING

1. Avoid overheating. Keep the house temperature around 72 degrees.
2. Keep all heating equipment in good operating condition; keep it clean and free from all dust particles.
3. Flame on radiant-type room heaters should not be allowed to lick out top of radiants.
4. If you have a gas heater in your fireplace, seal the flue to the extent that the room heat will not go up the chimney, yet leave sufficient space for venting heater.
5. See that windows and doors lock tightly; if possible they should be weather-stripped.
6. Where unvented equipment is used, a small opening at the top of the window is recommended to help reduce "wall sweating." Window openings should be no wider than necessary for an ample flow of fresh air, otherwise they become heat wasters.
7. At night when windows are open in bedrooms, shut off rest of house to prevent temperatures from dropping so low that more fuel will be needed to build up warmth during the morning hours.
8. When properly used, insulation can reduce consumption of heating gas 20 to 25 per cent in one-story houses and 15 to 20 per cent in two-story houses of standard type construction. Insulation materials are plentiful.

Gas Floor Furnaces are available for you who can qualify under WPB ruling. Gas room heaters are rationed by OPA. Let us help you in making out necessary application forms.

The NEW Winning of the West

The first unit of the Santa Fe System Lines back in 1868

JUST 75 years ago this week, October 30, 1868, rail was laid on the first unit of the Santa Fe System Lines—a 17-mile stretch in Kansas from Topeka to Carbondale.

Today Santa Fe System Lines are over 13,000 miles long, serving people and products from Illinois to California, and from Colorado to the Gulf of Mexico.

Looking Ahead

Farsighted men, even years back, began looking ahead to the Southwest and West not only as a land of enchantment and natural resources but as the coming theatre of industrial expansion in this country.

The war has brought home the soundness of this vision—big things are happening today in the states of Santa Fe land.

States served by the Santa Fe

Thousands are flocking to Texas—great state of farm, factory and free enterprise—to man its booming plants, cultivate its soil, and ride its far-reaching ranges.

Kansas is becoming famous for its plane factories and munition plants, as well as its golden wheat fields.

Arizona is winning new fame in the fields of agriculture, live-stock, mining, and as an aviation center.

Oklahoma's oil is writing bright new pages in the science of war, and advances of the peace to come.

Freight cars are rolling out of New Mexico loaded with essential copper, potash and zinc, as well as steers and sheep.

Illinois, Missouri and Iowa are saying it around the world with factory and food products.

The lead and silver and coal from Colorado's mineral-filled mountains are doing great things toward winning a war.

And in California steel mills, shipyards, power dams, plane plants and lumber mills are working around the clock to supply more, more and more of the sinews of war.

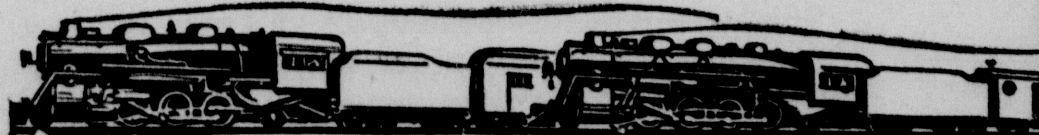

Santa Fe all the way from U. S. A.!

We of the Santa Fe are too busy "keeping 'em rolling" for Victory to take time off to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the laying of our first rail.

This is, however, an appropriate time to point out how important to the development of this New West has been the linking together of its States by Santa Fe rails. We are naturally proud to be part of this great development.

DR. HUNT AND WIFE FOUND DEAD IN HOME

Dr. Roy Hunt, prominent physician and surgeon of Littlefield in Lamb county, and wife were found dead in their home at Littlefield early Tuesday, according to a news cast shortly before noon.

According to information in the news cast Dr. Hunt was shot through the head and killed instantly and Mrs. Hunt beaten to death.

A small daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hunt was locked in a closet of the home from which she extricated herself and called officers at Olton.

According to information from newscasts the slaying took place sometime during the night of Monday. According to information received from officers the slayer is said to have entered the home through a window.

Rangers were said working on the case and information was that no arrests had been made.

Dr. Hunt was shot in April of 1942 on a road near Littlefield around midnight where he had gone in response to a telephone call which he said had come to him with the explanation that an auto wreck had occurred.

Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron was indicted for the shooting and was tried in Olton. He was convicted and given a 7 year sentence. The case is on appeal.

Mrs. Ruth Newton, wife of Dr. Newton, was also indicted and the case was set down for trial on November 15 next. Her case was postponed in August due to illness.

Only One Conference Game Friday; Cameron Goes to Killeen

Only one conference game will be played in the District Friday night. Cameron goes to Killeen for their annual game.

The Kangaroos were idle Friday night and should be in good shape for the Yoemen. The Cameron boys came out of the game with Taylor without injury and if they can get back in psychological shape should give the Kangaroos a real battle.

The Kangaroos are led by Gayle Tolliver, a deluxe passer, who looks like another Davy O'Brien. If he clicks in the coming conference games he could conceivably lead his team to victory over Taylor.

As it looked from the bench on Monday the Yoemen have just an outside chance to beat Killeen. The Ducks have to go to Killeen on the night of November 19.

November 5 is an open date with all the clubs. There are only five in the conference: Cameron, Georgetown, Belton, Killeen and Taylor.

The Taylor Ducks, taking the Yoemen easily here last Friday, go to Gatesville Friday night for a game. The Gatesville team defeated Killeen and should give the Ducks a pasting on their own home grounds.

Thrill is at Georgetown for a non-conference game; Belton goes to Lampasas.

Lt. and Mrs. J. C. Mayfield and son of Randolph Field visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mayfield, Sr., over the week end.

African Campaign Is Thrilling Basis Of Adventure Film

The war has yielded many thrilling stories for books, stage and screen so far and there will be many more to come, but one of the most intriguing ideas yet filmed seems to be that contained in Paramount's new adventure movie, "Five Graves to Cairo," which on next Thursday the Cameron Theatre brings to its screen.

The title itself is one to pique the curiosity and from all accounts the story lives up to the interest it creates, having as it does for background the titanic struggle in Africa between the British Eighth Army and Rommel's Afrika Korps. The "Five Graves to Cairo" is Rommel's secret—a secret stumbled upon in the picture by a British tank corporal in the person of personable Franchot Tone.

As the story unfolds, Tone, delirious from sunstroke, stumbles into what he believes to be a British-controlled hotel only to find that it is about to become staff headquarters for Field Marshal Rommel. He disguises himself as a waiter, with the help of Akim Tamiroff, Egyptian hotel owner, and a little French chambermaid, played by Anne Baxter. When Rommel moves into the hotel with his staff, Tone is amazed to be accepted as one of the Nazis, a trusted advance fifth-columnist.

How Tone acquires the secret of the "Five Graves to Cairo" and manages to deliver it to the British authorities provides plenty of excitement and gives "Five Graves to Cairo" the reputation for being one of the best of the recent war-background adventure films. It marks the return of Erich von Stroheim to Hollywood in a role that is probably the best he ever had—that of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel.

The screen story was written by Charles Brackett and Billy Wilder who have such film hits to their credit as "The Major and the Minor," "Arise, My Love," "Hold Back the Dawn" and "Ninotchka," among many others.

EIGHT RULES GIVEN FOR WAR TIME LIVING

F. L. Gregory, Chief Clerk for the local War Price and Ration Board, has issued a timely schedule of eight rules for war time living.

Here is the list which he has just issued and should be clipped and kept for frequent reference:

"The Milam County War Price and Rationing Board suggest eight rules for wartime living which every individual should follow to do his part on the home front.

They are:

1. Make the home front pledge.
2. Display the home front pledge symbol proudly in your window.
3. Watch for the publication of top legal food prices as they apply to your community.
4. Clip out these official lists and are not published in your newspaper.
5. If wartime community prices obtain them from your War Price and Rationing Board.
6. Check your retailer's selling prices to see that they are no higher than top legal prices established by the government.
7. If the retailer's prices are too high, you should talk with him about them. The honest retailer will welcome such a checkup—for his protection against the dishonest dealer.
8. However, if the retailer is unwilling to correct errors, it is your duty to report the violations to the Price Panel of your War Price Rationing Board. (You are assured that your name will not be used by the Price Panel in investigating your report.)

Ration Board Office To Close Thursday of Each Week Says Perry

Sam Perry, chairman of the Milam County War Price and Rationing Board, has issued the following notice relative to conditions brought about by excessive work in the office:

"Due to the fact that registration of Food Book No. 4, renewal of non-highway and T gas rationing came almost together and the entire ration board meets every Wednesday night to approve rationing of food, gas, tires, shoes, boots and stoves and to pass on various documents, the office force is flooded with more work than it is humanly possible to get out in the following week. As Chairman of the Board, I have requested that the office be closed Thursday of each week so that rationing will get out on time and the office force at least bring their work up to date."

Lad Loses $11 While Looking for Bicycle To Buy; Let's Help Him

Yesterday a small Cameron boy, G. W. Templin, ran a classified ad in The Midget. He had lost $11 in cash, money he had worked hard to get and funds he cannot afford to lose.

This morning G. W. came back to see if anyone had found the money and turned it in. When told the money had not been turned in he was almost in tears and turned sorrowfully away. G. W. is not more than 10. He earned that money by hard work, a fine compliment to any boy these days.

He went down to Horstmann Bros. to look at a bicycle and finding nothing he could buy for $11 so he went to the Hefley-Stedman Motor Company to look at the bikes there but could not find one for $11. Somewhere on the rounds he lost his money, a $10 bill and a $1 bill rolled up together and tied.

Ever been a boy? Well, I have and I know what $11 means to G. W. Life today for him is pretty dark. There's more heart hunger over shiny, new bicycles than most anything in a boy's life. It was hard enough to have that disappointment—not being able to buy the wheel, but the disaster of losing his money was more than his 10 years could stand.

There are many more honest than dishonest in the world. Human sympathy is about all that is holding this old dilapidated world together. If somehow G. W. could get his money back faith in human kind would be rekindled in his heart. The Midget will give a dollar and maybe more just to see G. W. smile again and to let him know we are all good folks—that money is no comparable value to that faith a boy will keep with him

Photos of Mustang Fighter Planes Are Received by Hicks

Chas. M. Hicks, county superintendent, has received pictures of two Mustang fighter planes, one for the Thorndale and the other for Buckholts.

The Government, in the April war bond drive, permitted allocation of names to these ships in honor of the communities mentioned.

These ships are built by North American in Dallas and were the first fighter crafts to cross the English Channel and the first U. S. Planes to carry the air war to Germany.

In the April bond drive a Flying Fortress was to be named after City of Cameron and also some craft for the county.

OCTOBER IN HISTORY

October 23, 1942.—Mrs. Roosevelt arrived at London.

October 24, 1942.—Vice Admiral Halsey replaced Ghormley in Southwest Pacific command; Allied bombers blasted 10 Jap ships at Rabaul.

Ollie W. Gaines and Thomas Mowdy are in the Newton Memorial Hospital suffering severe cuts and bruises received in an Automobile accident Saturday night.

HEAVY BLOWS RAINED ON HITLER'S EUROPE

New and heavy blows were rained on Europe over the week end as Germany's once invincible armies reeled back and fell before the onslaughts of Allied and Russian armies.

The Road to Rome will be long, bloody and bitter. But despite the tenacious resistance of the German armies of Clark and Montgomery went methodically ahead.

The tide was running high for the Red army in the east. With Krivoi Rog threatened and Red army had sped six miles past Melitopol which fell on Saturday and with it the key to the Crimea where Hitler has some 500,000 troops now gravely imperiled.

These developments foreshadowed a disaster worse than Stalingrad. In Moscow 200 guns roared tiding of the great victory of the Red army and not far away in the Kremlin sat the man who decreed the salute—Joseph Stalin, conferring with Cordell Hull, American Secretary of State and Anthony Eden, British Foreign Minister, to further the war plans of the Allies.

Early Monday medium bombers carried a heavy assault to occupied Europe and in the South Pacific new Jap blows were beaten back and their navy had suffered another defeat.

R. M. Lyles of Angleton was a business visitor on Friday.

Who Enforces Ceiling Prices? Wood Selling For $15 Per Cord

The current prices of wood here brings sharply into comment the question: What is a ceiling price and who is responsible for maintaining ceiling prices?

Recently in San Antonio a number of wood dealers were fined for charging in excess of ceiling price for wood. The ceiling price prevailing at that time there was $7 per cord.

Wood has been selling here as high as $15 per cord. This winter many people will be without heat because they cannot pay for wood. There is also the labor problem in connection with the wood.

It is not here intended to say what the ceiling price on wood is or should be. The vital question is what should be done to relieve families from the unprecedented price for wood.

This situation has been brought to the attention of the Herald.

Many poor families depend on wood for heat in winter. The situation will become critical this winter if there is on effort made to solve the problem.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

"Smoke Eaters"

A battlewagon loaded with various explosives, bombs, torpedoes, oil and gasoline is not the safest place to be with a fire raging, so all but the smaller ships of our Navy are equipped with elaborate fire fighting apparatus.

It may be that this equipment never will be used during the entire course of the war, but it must be paid for out of the War Bonds and Stamps that we are setting aside each payday. U. S. Treasury Department

WAR FRONTS QUIET IN CURTAILED ACTIVITY

Very much as it was in 1941 and 1942 restricted activity on the global war fronts Friday had virtually brought a blackout.

It was difficult to find news. Newspapers and radio commentators talked of things past and speculated on what might happen in the future.

The single stab of light in the blackout was a hard raid by Medium bombers across the channel Friday on German targets in France.

Activity in the South Pacific was confined to air raids on Jap positions. The Japs were fighting back for Finchaven and were making some progress.

Rains and the Germans had slowed the Allied army advance in Italy. The Road to Rome is going to be a long, hard one. If the Allies have no more strength with which to strike than their efforts indicate in Italy the war will last for years.

The Red army was getting on with the job in the East. Reports indicated that the Moscow Conference is about to end. What has been accomplished is nothing. There may follow a conference between Roosevelt, Stalin and Churchill. If this is done, nothing will be accomplished. The only thing that counts is to fight, to kill Nazi and Japs, and to refuse collaboration with the Italians.

Dependable POWER to Care for the Sick and Wounded

DEPENDABLE electric service is a vital necessity in the work of a hospital—particularly in the operating room. Texas Power & Light Company is serving two Army General Hospitals, one of which requires as much electricity as normally used by the homes and business houses of a city of 10,000 people.

This Company was ready to supply every electric service need of these great hospitals before their construction was completed.

Texas Power & Light Company has repeatedly demonstrated its ability to deliver dependable electric service ahead of demand to military installations and war industries. It has met all demands promptly and efficiently in the 52-county area it serves and has helped other companies and government agencies meet critical power needs for the war program in adjoining areas.

That there has been no power shortage, that electricity has not been rationed in these strenuous days of ever-mounting demand, is the result of a policy of always planning ahead of actual needs. Such planning by the Texas Power & Light Company and hundreds of other companies which have grown up under the American system of free enterprise, has made it possible for our country to become the great Arsenal of Democracy.

To win the war as quickly as possible, and to preserve the American Way of Life forever against the schemes and ambitions of all Hitler, Hirohito and other such dictators, we are devoting the fullest possible measure of our strength, our facilities and the skill and experience of our entire organization.

was the second daughter, Jane nearing three.

Both children were unharmed. Grissom, whose home is two doors removed from the Hunt residence, went immediately to the Hunt place. The time was approximately 7:50 a. m. and inside the Hunt house there was not sufficient natural light to permit good vision. Upon first entrance into the Hunt master bedroom, Mrs. Grissom could see nothing amiss. Later, she discovered Doctor Hunt's battered head, called her husband from another part of the house.

He saw both Dr. and Mrs. Hunt were dead and gave the alarm.

Sheriff Hutson voiced the thought of every one of the score or more officers here when he said:

"This is the most awful thing we've ever seen. We haven't got really started on our job yet."

Bodies of both victims, lying in a double bed, were bound by ropes at arms and legs. Heavy cords and metal coat hangers were about the necks. Efforts, apparently only partially successful, had been made to gag the pair.

Specially poignant was the report given the Grissoms, close friends of the Hunts by little Jo Ann Hunt who, despite the fact that she is not quite 6, has a head on her pretty shoulders.

Having been awakened by the "bad man," Joe Ann, sleeping in a room adjacent to that of her parents, ran to her mother's side. There she saw the "man," who pushed her into a closet and "throw water on me until I nearly froze." Saying that "the water was in a can," Jo Ann gave officers the idea that perhaps the liquid was not water, but instead something like chloroform, for the child, uncovered save by her light night gown, spent the balance of the night asleep in the closet.

Jo Ann described the "man" as having "ugly round feet," and "hairy eyebrows." Evidently he was masked, because the child said he "wore clothes on his head with holes for eyes." She told the man to speak to her. She said he wore gloves.

Investigating officers, tracing the pre-slaying activities of the Hunts, discovered:

Sometime last night, Dr. and Mrs. Fred W. Jones, Jr., of Olton, brought to Dr. Hunt a patient. After Drs.

Hunt and Jones finished work at the hospital, the men joined Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Jones at the Hunt residence where they visited for several hours—perhaps as long as until 2 a. m. when the Jones couple left for their home. The attack, officers reasoned, must have come between 2 a. m. and prior to daylight this morning.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Ned Buxton was home on furlough last week. And you ought to see the fuss the town made over him. Seems like almost everybody wanted to give a party, or a testimonial dinner, or stage something special in the way of celebration.

Of course, Ned acted grateful. But he told me later, all he really wanted was to sit down with a few old friends, enjoy a glass of beer or two, and talk about old times again.

I guess that's how many soldiers feel. They don't want a lot of fuss made over them, with formal celebrating and such.

What they really like are the simple pleasures—one of Mom's home-cooked meals, visiting with friends over a glass of beer—enjoying things that mean home and comfort and security.

From where I sit, our biggest job, apart from helping win the war, is making sure those things are waiting for our men when they come back home for good.

GRADY LITTLE (A Tribute)

To those who knew Grady Little intimately, he exemplified unselfish devotion and service to friends, family and to his country. He was always ready and eager to lend a helping hand to his friends and minister to those in distress. No needy person ever appealed to him in vain if it was in his power to render aid. This was the practice of his life.

He could always be depended on to do his part, and more, in any of the worthy causes. When he was called on to contribute his money or time to any church, charity or other worthy cause, he always responded liberally and without hesitation. He considered this his sacred duty.

In 1917 when storm clouds of war gathered over the nation, he volunteered and served with honor in the armed forces, and with just one purpose foremost in his mind, to render service to his country in its time of need.

He possessed that generous, self-sacrificing spirit of service to his fellow man that the world so sorely needs. He had many friends because he was a friend to many.

His passing is a loss that the community can ill afford.
